Sara worked hard her whole life. One thing after another brings her down and makes her life hell. When she encounters a group of men in the act of killing someone, she knows her days on earth are at an end. She doesn't realize that the one in charge has no intention of killing her.

When she's caught by one of the psycho men and beaten, she guesses she has minutes to live. Sara has no idea that it's not her that will die that night but the one who tried to take her from Ethan....
